Six-year-old Gretl Schmidt is on a train bound for Auschwitz. Jak ó b Kowalski is planting a bomb on the tracks. " Richly imagined and masterfully told, a love story so moving it will leave you breathless. And deeply satisfied. " —Tamera Alexander, USA Today bestselling author As World War II draws to a close, Jak ó b fights with the Polish resistance against the crushing forces of Germany and Russia. They intend to destroy a German troop transport, but Gretl ' s unscheduled train reaches the bomb first. Gretl is the only survivor. Though spared from the concentration camp, the orphaned German Jew finds herself lost in a country hostile to her people. When Jak ó b discovers her, guilt and fatherly compassion prompt him to take her in. For three years, the young man and little girl form a bond over the secrets they must hide from his Catholic family. But she can ' t stay with him forever. Jak ó b sends Gretl to South Africa, where German war orphans are promised bright futures with adoptive Protestant families—so long as Gretl ' s Jewish roots, Catholic education, and connections to communist Poland are never discovered. Separated by continents, politics, religion, language, and years, Jak ó b and Gretl will likely never see each other again. But the events they have both survived and their belief that the human spirit can triumph

NATIONAL BESTSELLER • Provocative and illuminating essays from women at the forefront of the climate movement who are harnessing truth, courage, and solutions to lead humanity forward. “ A powerful read that fills one with, dare I say . . .

hope? ” —The New York Times NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE

There is a renaissance blooming in the climate movement: leadership that is more characteristically feminine and more faithfully feminist, rooted in compassion, connection, creativity, and collaboration. While it ’ s clear that women and girls are vital voices and agents of change for this planet, they are too often missing from the proverbial table. More than a problem of bias, it ’ s a dynamic that sets us up for failure. To change everything, we need everyone. All We Can Save illuminates the expertise and insights of dozens of diverse women leading on climate in the United States—scientists, journalists, farmers, lawyers, teachers, activists, innovators, wonks, and designers, across generations, geographies, and race—and aims to advance a more representative, nuanced, and solution-oriented public conversation on the climate crisis. These women offer a spectrum of ideas and insights for how we can rapidly, radically reshape society. Intermixing essays with poetry and art, this book is both a balm and a guide for knowing and holding what has been done to the world, while bolstering our resolve never to give up on one another or our collective future. We must summon truth, courage, and solutions to turn away from the brink and toward life-giving possibility.

Curated by two climate leaders, the book is a collection and celebration of visionaries who are leading us on a path toward all we can save.
